4-H Interstate Exchange Bake Sale

Appomattox 4-H members will be participating in an Interstate Exchange Trip to Frederick County, Maryland during the week of August 11-17. In order to raise funds for the trip, 4-Hers have held two bake sales and cake raffles. Pictured above are Vicki Glover, Cynthia Hix, Becky Davidson, Marcella Lively and Pam Moore as they convince Mike Hancock that he should purchase several cupcakes. Also traveling to Frederick County, Maryland during the week of August 11-17 will be Karen Lively (behind Mike), Lisa Mitchell, Cindy Guill, Joe Ford, Baxter Parris, and Nathan Smith. Chaperones will be Mrs. Sadie Brightwell, Mrs. Margaret Glover and Frank H. Sweet.

Daniel Reports

By W. C. (Dan) Daniel

Virginia Fifth District Congressman

WASHINGTON This has been one of the busiest weeks that I have experienced since coming to Washington.

The Investigating Subcommittee on which I serve has conducted hearings morning and afternoon on what appear to be defense contract irregularities. On Monday, the Virginia delegation met with Governor Godwin on completion of Route I-66, followed by luncheon at which other matters of concern to the State and the delegation were discussed. I received a two-hour briefing on the current situation in Southeast Asia conducted by Ambassador Graham A. Martin who, incidentally, is a native of Patrick County. Between-times, I had the pleasure of meeting with Fifth District residents, singly and in groups, who were visiting their Nation's Capital.

In addition, Floor action has belied reports by Washington news sources that Congress has been "paralyzed by Watergate". By adjournment on Thursday, 14 Bills had passed the House this week, and 12 Conference Reports had been considered and adopted.

All but two of the major appropriations bills for Fiscal 1975 have passed the House, a better record than at this time last year. Further, the Armed Services Committee, to which I am assigned, is considerably farther along in its work, despite the fact that additional areas of investigation have been assigned to it. Further indication of House activity is revealed by the summaries of legislation prepared each quarter. Through June, 1974, the House had passed 372 measures, 377 had been reported, and 84 were pending on the Calendar. For June, 1973, 365 measures had passed, 324 had been reported, and 44 were pending.

Because of this unusually heavy schedule, the reader can well understand that little time has been left for a detailed study of impeachment - related matters, and I have therefore reached no conclusion on the central issue. However, there are certain peripheral matters which have been reported and discussed. Some are substantive, others appear to be "trail balloons", launched to assess reaction.

I do not support the so-called "quick trail" approach put forth by some Members, whereby the President would request an affirmative vote by the House to speed the trail in the Senate. This would not be fair to the public, the President, or the Members. The elected representatives of the people have a Constitutional responsibility to face the issue squarely. Any Member who does not have the political courage to do so should resign his seat. I do not believe it would serve the best interests of the country for the President to resign, unless on advice of medical authorities.

I will support the Resolution to televise the proceedings if reasonable rules are established by the House. The American people are entitled to know what is being said and by whom. They have a right to hear he evidence themselves, without having to rely on the versions offered them by Washington news sources. In fairness, given the most impartial observer and reporter, to condense and extract from the words offered would be an impossible task, doomed to failure.

The task before me is a difficult one, and it is complicated by certain factors. First, the simple act of obtaining much of the evidence has been more difficult than it should have been. The Impeachment Subcommittee staff knows full well where every one of the 435 Members of the House are located; it is no secret. Yet as reports have been published we have had to call the staff to find out where the documents were located, then send for our copies which were provided only after presenting official identification - and this usually after reporters had obtained and reported piecemeal on this same information. The executive branch, too, has appeared less than eager to provide needed information.

Further, when 38 Member-lawyers and 43 staff-lawyers listen to the same information and testimony and come away with diametrically opposed reactions to what they heard, it can be recognized that the remainder of the members will have no clear-cut guidance from that quarter.

An additional complication arises from an outside source. Quite naturally, given what is possibly the most important political story of this century, reporters and writers are anxious for news. This had led to numerous inquiries, primarily from wire services, network and syndicated news gatherers. Some of them, in the absence of hard news, have resorted to verbal embroidery. Others have accored regional or party leadership to individual Members not necessarily endorsed by the Members' colleagues. Certainly, no one speaks for me by virtue of region, state, or party, and I believe most embers feel the same way.

Your Congressman has read and studied soone of the information gathered by the Senate Watergate and House Judiciary Committees. He will listen to such tapes as he believes pertinent, conduct a detailed study of this information, listen to debate on the Floor, apply all this to the requirements of the Constitution, and vote his convictions, which he hopes will serve the best interests of our nation, its people, and its future.

Chemical Tests For Market Tobacco Set

Chemical analysis of random samples of tobacco at warehouses will be made throughout the marketing period to determine if any pesticide containing DDT or TDE was used on the tobacco after it was field planted, according to James R. Ford, Jr., Chairman of the Appomattox County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

He reminded growers that it is a violation of law to certify falsely that they did not use DDT or TDE on their tobacco after it was planted in the field. Before before issued tobacco marketing cards, producers must certify whether or not DDT or TDE was used. Tobacco marketing cards - issued by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service county office - are required for all tobacco grown under marketing quotas.

During the past four years practically all producers have certified non-use of materials containing DDT or TDE. Nevertheless, in some areas chemical analyses have showed residual levels of the pesticides.

Since tobacco is mixed in the redrying and packing process, use of DDT or TDE by only a few producers can affect the entire area. Chairman Ford said finding DDT or TDE residue could result in loss of important markets for an entire area. Several major buyers have indicated concern about the level of DDT or TDE residue in their purchases from certain areas, according to notices received from ASCS headquarters at the U.S. Department of Agriculture in Washington.

"It is very much to the beneficial interest of every tobacco grower in Appomattox county to be sure that correct certification was made about the use of DDT and TDE and to see that no tobacco with DDT or TDE residue is marketed under false pretenses," Mr. Ford said. He expressed hope that the chemical analyses of tobacco samples from local warehouses would show no residue from the pesticides.

Beverage Prices Rise

RICHMOND - Six hundred and four items on the Virginia Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control's price list increase in price Aug. 1, while seventeen items decrease in price. In addition the price list, which is adjusted quarterly, contains 30 items that appeared on the May 1 price list, lists twelve proof changes and seven size changes.

The increases in price vary from five cents to 85c, while the seventeen decreases in price range from five cents to 50c. Of the 604 items increasing in price, 267 will increase by five cents, 164 will increase by ten cents, 65 will increase by 15c, 40 will increase by 20 cents and twenty-two will increase by twenty-five cents. The other 64 items on the price range from six items increasing 30 cents to one increasing 85 cents. Ten items decreased in proof from 86 to 80 proof while two items showed a decrease in proof from 100 proof to 80 proof.

Price list adjustments, which are usually caused by increased distiller prices passed on by the Department to its customers, this time include a slight increase in the Department's own mark-up formula from 35% to 36%, the first such increase since January, 1970.

Card of Thanks

The family of Maynard D. Gilbert would like to thank their friends and neighbors for the visits, cards, food, and other acts of kindness extended during his illness and since his death. We would especially like to thank Rev. Millard G. Stimpson and Rev. Cecil V. Dalton. We shall never forget you. God bless you.

Wife and Daughters 8-8-1

The family of Miss Shelia Seay would like to express their sincere appreciation for all the kindness and sympathy shown during the recent loss of our daughter. Also for all the beautiful flowers, cards and food. Even though we can not thank each and every one of you, we hope that this will show how much your concern, love and friendship has meant to us and that it will always be remembered.

From her loving mother 8-8-1p

I want to express my sincere thanks and deep appreciation to my neighbors, friends and relatives for cards, food, flowers, visits, phone calls, prayers and every act of kindness shown to me while I was in the hospital and since my return home. E. Irving Bingham. 8-8-1p

The Family of Shelby Jean Mann Chandler wishes to thank their many friends and neighbors for the flowers, food, visits, calls, cards, and other acts of kindness shown us during our recent bereavement. God bless you all. 8-8/1p

The family of the late Emmitt W.Paulette, Sr., acknowledges with sincere appreciation the kind expressions of sympathy during our bereavement.

The prayers, flowers, food, visits, cards, and all the other ways of being helpful are such a source of strength to us and a beautiful tribute to a wonderful husband, father, and brother.

Especially we want to thank our pastor, Rev. Edmond Terry, and the Rescue Squad. Your acts of love will remain in our hearts forever. May God richly bless each one of your.

Wife, children, grandchildren brothers and sisters. 8-8-1p

To my relatives and friends who remembered me in so many ways during my stay in the hospital and since my return home, I want to say, "Thanks." May God richly bless you. Lila B. Hernecall.

8-8-1p

I would like to express my appreciation to those that remembered me with prayers, cards, visits and gifts while I was in the hospital and since my return home.

May God bless you all.

James M. Tweedy 8-8-1p

It is with sincere appreciation that we acknowledge the many acts of kindness, expressions of sympathy and personal visits from our friends during the prolonged illness and death of Faye B. Lawson.
